A COWARDLY MURDER.

The shooting of Theodore Glancey by Clarence Gray at Santa Barbara was a cowardly assassination. Gray had been nominated by the Republican County Convention for the office of District Attorney. Glancey was the editor of the Press, an able Republican paper. The Press adhered to the principle, recently set forth in the platform adopted by a Massachusetts State Convention, that the duty of supporting the party nominees and the duty of nominating unobjectionable candidates are reciprocal duties. In its adherence to this principle the Press made some reflections upon the character of Gray. In the course of its comments upon the nominations made by the Convention, the Press said:

"For District Attorney a man who goes by the name of Gray, with how many aliases it is impossible to say, was nominated. The charity of our silence is more than he can expect."

On Friday evening the following appeared in the Press:

"Not the least of these in this country is the fact that the Republicans here will be relieved of the necessity of defeating their candidate for District Attorney. The nomination was disgraceful in every respect, and while it is extremely disagreeable for earnest Republicans to take such a course in a Presidential year, there is no difference of opinion among those who have the good of the party at heart. They are convinced that all such candidates should be beaten and Republican Conventions taught, if they do not realize it already, that the decent people of Santa Barbara county will not submit to having the officers of the law chosen from among the hoodlums and law-breakers."

The next day Gray met Glancey on the street and asked if he were the author of the last article referred to. Glancey replied that he was, whereupon Gray poured out a volley of abuse, and drawing a pistol fired, inflicting a wound from which Glancey died on the following morning. The editor's last words were:

"Tell my friends that I die like a man—die for a principle, and would not go back on it now if I could."

Clarence Gray, the murderer, is a man with a bad reputation. The S. F. Call says of him:

"In 1876 he publicly vilified the private character of Miss La Grange, sister of Gen. O. H. La Grange, who was in charge of the Press at the time, and was publicly called to account therefor by another brother, who gave emphasis to a demand for a retraction by a shot from a revolver, which failed to hit Gray. Three years ago he became embroiled in a personal encounter with Mr. Coryall, at the time city editor of the Press, but the latter thrashed him badly. Two years ago the Fourth of July last, he was engaged in a street affray with Barney Lincoln, a prominent Democratic politician. Both parties emptied their revolvers, but bad marksmanship prevented any damage being done."

Gray has lived in Santa Barbara ten years, and has had considerable practice in the courts, enjoying and reputation of being a good criminal lawyer. His quarrelsome disposition was well known and he was considered a dangerous man. Glancey, on the other hand, was noted for his integrity, his public spirit and his unflinching devotion to duty. Of undoubted personal courage, he fearlessly exposed himself to danger, never carrying a weapon, though often urged to do so. Gray must have known that Glancey was in the habit of going unarmed, and this circumstance makes the shooting a brutal and cowardly assassination.

The murder of Glancey is a calamity to the Coast. He was a man of convictions and dared to maintain them. He was a clever journalist, witty and bright, with the power to hit hard blows with polished words. Santa Barbara should be sensible of the loss it has sustained in the death of such a man, and should see to it that stern justice be meted out to his assassin.

This affair gives rise to some general considerations of the sentiments and the passions in which it originated. There is a certain class of men who are always ready to justify any form of person assault upon an editor. Yet it is seldom that a newspaper attack upon any man originates in the personal ill will of the editor towards its object. A decent man, in charge of a newspaper is very reluctant to assail the private character of any man. Yet his duty to his readers, if he be not timid, will sometimes oblige him to write unpleasant articles. The character of any candidate for an office of trust and responsibility is legitimate matter for comment either from the press or the platform. Public sentiment should support any newspaper which, from proper motives, exposes the bad character of a man who seeks the place of public trust.

The lawyer, in behalf of a single client, even where nothing but property is concerned, claims the right to assail and denounce and tear to tatters, in open court, the character of a witness. And this not from any considerations of principle, but simply because he is paid to do it in the interests of his client. Yet it is extremely rare for the aggrieved party to seek personal satisfaction, even though his character may have been unjustly and scandalously attacked. But why should the lawyer, who confessedly works for pay, enjoy such an immunity, while the editor who is actuated, or should be actuated by principle, is liable to be shot down for an article written in defense of the people's rights? It is a vicious and depraved sentiment which considers an editor a fair subject for personal assault for the slightest degree of offence given to some idiot by a newspaper article.

There is a useful lesson to be drawn from this affair by men engaged in the business of making newspapers. Until the public sentiment becomes more healthy in regard to thrashing and shooting editors, the fraternity will do well to run no risks. Let them be always prepared for such murderous assaults as that by which the gallant Glancey lost his life. And if an editor be killed in the discharge of his duty, the community which he sought to benefit should be sufficiently grateful for his services to see that his murderer suffers the penalty of the law. Until an enlightened public sentiment frowns down all recourse to the knife and pistol to kill the just liberty of the press, so long may corruption be expected to flourish in public offices and venality to sit in high places.

LET THEM REFLECT.

It is the general opinion that Col. Fair's candidacy will bring two sacks into the campaign instead of one. We are of the opinion, and we hope we are correct, that instead of opening an additional sack, it will have the opposite effect and close Mr. Sharon's. The latter must see that he cannot afford to put any more money into the contest than Fair, and we hope they both will see the matter in its true light. It will be disgraceful to have two millionaires come here and go to buying their way into the Senate of the United States, to say nothing of the fact that that body may send a committee out to see how the election was carried on. Let the two candidates contribute fairly to the legitimate campaign funds of their respective parties and then take their chances before the people.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

How does Col. Fair's candidacy affect the Republican candidates? It seems to be the impression that no one else has a hope on that side except Mr. Sharon. The Storey county primaries were undoubtedly carried by his friends, and unless Mr. Wren has hopes, we can see no one to carry our banner into the fight with any prospect of success, except Mr. Sharon. We cannot conceal our disappointment at the turn things have taken, but there may changes take place between now and January first to put a different face on the matter.

The S. F. Bulletin last evening had an article on the Santa Barbara murder, in which the following passage occurred: "It is better that now and then an honest editor should be killed in the discharge of his duty, than that public offices should swarm with corrupt men." That article was evidently written by some one on "the outside," and not by a member of the regular staff.

Good Christians who have always considered the fast in the wilderness as a miracle will be somewhat surprised at this from Scribner's, of which Rev. J. G. Holland is editor: "One thing, at least, Dr. Tanner has done. He has removed the fast of Christ from the realm of miracle, and made that credible to the disbeliever in miracles which seemed to him like a fable or an idle tale."

Dresses are to fit tighter than ever next winter, so that the masculine imagination will have little to do during the cold weather. The feminine hair is to be made up plain and tight to the head, or frizzled on the forehead and surmounted by a wreath of roses on state occasions.—S. F. Alta.

L. S. Foster died in Connecticut yesterday. He was a direct descendant of Miles Standish. At one time Mr. Foster was a very prominent man in the nation, but now probably very few remember even the name. He was Senator and President of the Senate during a part of Andy Jackson's term, and was ex-officio Vice President of the United States.

JOTTINGS.

See new 50-cent ads.

The gamblers are not picking up much at this fair.

Pool selling was a little feeble at the Arcade last night.

Mrs. Cough has some nice rooms to let, and good board.

John Kleppe led in a very fine yearling Barnum colt this morning.

Sweeney & Allen paid $450 for the gaming privilege at the fair grounds.

Remember that there will be dancing in Kimball's hall on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

That ball in the Theatre on Friday evening will be largely attended. Langer's band will furnish the music.

Mrs. A. H. Manning sends a charming basket of flowers to the GAZETTE's office. They are from her own garden.

The case of Wheat vs. Hulobinson was on trial to-day in the District Court. Court adjourned at noon until 9 A. M. to-morrow.

W. Geogel, with his usual liberality, offers a prize of a set of jewelry for the best embroidery and needle work exhibited at the fair.

G. J. Griffith, former Supt. of Wales Co., passed west last night. He has just made a trip through Lander and Esmeralda counties. He thinks well of southern Nevada.

H. L. W. Knox has fitted up the restaurant at the track in nice shape. Any one who drops in there is certain of a nice meal with a good cup of coffee, nice bread, butter and meat.

The yawning tent which suddenly appeared in the trousers of a young man at the race track yesterday excited much amusement. The unfortunate wearer of the shoddy garment would have been spared that mortification had his clothes been purchased at the White House.

A large number of canary birds may be found at Blakeley's store for this week. They were imported from Germany by Capt. Mullet of San Francisco. He is the man who ships sea lions to the east and Europe. He has his own vessel and does most of the shipping with his own hands. He has shipped 300 lions over the overland road.

A Wrong Report.

A New York dramatic paper states, on very good authority, that Nissa Varian died on her voyage to Europe, a couple of weeks ago, and that her remains were consigned to the ocean.

The above report is contradicted by C. S. Varian, brother of the deceased. Miss Varian's remains are coming from England for burial in Greenwood cemetery, New York.

THE STATE FAIR.

There was a very slim attendance at the Pavilion last evening. There were but few articles on exhibition, and not many had been completely arranged. To-day the space at disposal has been filling up, and many objects of interest are now displayed. There are beautiful flowers on exhibition, and some good pictures. Extended comment is reserved until the various departments have filled up. The Reno band discourses good music every evening.

A Woman at the Bottom of It, of Course.

The man whose body was found hanging to a tree near Brooklyn was at the Wm. Tell House in Reno on the sixth instant. He worked a day or two in Capt. Bragg's lumber yard. He suddenly disappeared, leaving behind him a pair of blankets and some clothes. To-day his clothes were examined and a letter written in German found. It had no address and was signed Andrew Haag, the name on the Nevada City poll tax receipt found with the body. The following is nearly a literal translation of the letter, and indicates clearly an intention to commit suicide:

September 6, 1880.

You that have threatened my life so long, I leave you herewith my last best wishes, thanking you at the same time for all the good conferred on me. I fulfil your wishes, and do now what the one does to please his lady, if she should hear it. I wish you all a hearty future and welfare. I cannot stay any longer. May God forgive my poor soul, and yours also, and I beg your forgiveness for offenses.

P. S.—Are you satisfied now? ANDREW HAAG.

Cattle at the Grounds.

The display of stock at the grounds is not large, but it is very fine. B. F. Leete has a number of shorthorn Durhams. The first is Duke of Washoe, ten months old; weight 770 pounds. Red Mary is a three-year-old weighing 1795 pounds. Amelia fifth is another three-year-old of 1550 pounds weight. She gives four gallons of milk a day. In the stall next to her is her six-months-old calf Amelia weighing 500 pounds. Cherry is a yearling three-quarters thoroughbred weighing 975 pounds.

E. C. Sessions has a graded two-year-old with a calf beside her, and a graded four-year-old there. T. G. Herrman has a beautiful red thoroughbred bull. C. S. Varian's family cow is entered with her calf. She is a thoroughbred Jersey. He also names a handsome lot of pigs, and some ducks, geese, turkeys and chickens. A number of sheep were driven in to-day, and a large number of stalls will be filled up to-morrow and next day.

The 2:30 Trot Off.

The trot for horses in the 2:26 class, on the programme for Thursday, is not filled, Ashley having been withdrawn and Brushy John barred. A. K. Lamb last evening received a telegram, giving a positive assurance that Ashley would not appear here. Some inducement will probably be offered for Maggie C. to trot against time, if no horses can be got to make a match in her class.

Fortune Telling.

Madam Zola, a fortune teller whose reputation has become almost as extensive as her illustrations teacher, Raschell, is now in Reno, where she will spend a few weeks for the purpose of revealing the mystery of the future. BY TELEGRAPH.

A Disaster on the Oakland Long Wharf.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27. About a quarter to 8 o'clock last evening, a special train from Sacramento, having on board the First Regiment of the National Guard, returning from the State Fair, when just at the bend of the filling on Oakland wharf, jumped the track, owing to a misplaced switch. The engine turned a summersault, and, with the tender, went overboard. The first car went partly over, the others remaining on the track. William Brown, the engineer, is missing, and is supposed to have gone down with the engine. The fireman was fished out of the water unhurt. A member of the band, named Coffman, was cut badly about the head, and several occupants of the first car were more or less bruised. The engineer saw that the switch was misplaced in time to apply the air-brakes and check the speed of the train, otherwise the accident would have been far more disastrous.

Drowning Near Portland.

PORTLAND, O. Sept. 25.—About 10 A. M. to-day two young women named respectively Nellie Peal and Julia Dearwood, hired a row-boat, and getting a lad fourteen years old, started for Ross Island, two miles above the city. Reaching the boat-house they moored there, and commenced drinking beer, becoming intoxicated. On their return they managed to upset the boat and all three were thrown into the water. The lad and Miss Dearwood clung to the boat, and were rescued, but Miss Peal was drowned. The body was recovered almost immediately. The deceased was aged about twenty years. Miss Dearwood was badly strangled, and was with difficulty resuscitated. The boy says that the girls commenced rocking the boat and caused it to capsize. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental drowning rendered.

Hancock Loses a Vote.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—The Times says: Two men quarrelled in a St. Louis grocery last night over political matters. One wanted to bet the drinks that three-fourths of the crowd present were in favor of Garfield. Hancock's adherents consented, and taking a ballot announced that they stood eleven for Hancock and two for Gaillard. The other man said the count was fraudulent, and going behind the returns made the result in favor of Garfield. Knock downs followed, and in the melee Hancock lost a vote, his supporter, Henry Pohl, falling dead with a long knife in his side. Three men were arrested.

Fair's Reception on the Comstock.

VIRGINIA, Sept. 28. Col. Fair left the train at Steamboat, and reached home at 9 o'clock this morning, escorted by several carriages containing prominent Democrats. His house was decorated with flags. Over the gate there was an arch, and in evergreens, the words "Welcome Home." When he came over the northern divide he was saluted by the blowing the whistles of the hoisting works. A large crowd gathered at the house to welcome him. He made no speeches, but in answer to a call, said he was not much of a talker, and preferred to let his actions speak for him.

Commendable Lynching.

PLATTSBURG, Mo., Sept. 27. While Mrs. Winn, wife of Benjamin Winn, a young lady of refinement and high social standing, was returning home on horseback from a visit to some friends near Grayson, she was seized by a man, who wrapped her riding habit tightly round her head, dragged her to a ravine near by, and brutally outraged her. A party of neighbors immediately started in pursuit of the fiend, overtook and hanged him on the spot. He proved to be a mulatto, a married man, and a laborer on the Wynn farm.

Tottering Turkey Going to War.

GRAVEIRA, Sept. 27.—Yesterday the Prince of Montenegro received official information that the advance to Dulcigno would be regarded as a declaration of war. The Prince consequently has telegraphed Admiral Seymour that he is not prepared, without the aid of land troops of the Powers, to attack the Albanians, reinforced as they are by Turkish regulars and artillery. This step of the Porte must be regarded as tantamount to a declaration of war against Europe.

The Sultan Gets a Little Arbitrary.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27. The spirit of reckless defiance is becoming more and more intense at the Palace. For several days past the Sultan has refused to listen to any objections made by his Ministers to the policy he has adopted, and has issued an order that any officials who shall be heard expressing a contrary opinion will be dismissed and executed. Never before since the time of Mahomed the Terrible has such an order been issued.

Curious and Fatal Accident.

SANTA PAULA, Cal., Sept. 27. On Thursday, the wife of Ben Skaggs, who lives near this place, was shot while sweeping the house, by an old rifle which was accidentally knocked down, the ball passing through the calf of one leg, and lodging in the other near the heel. She died this morning from the effects of her wound.

Mending Plymouth Rock.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Sept. 27.—The upper portion of Plymouth rock, that has lain for 46 years in front of Pilgrim Hall, and has been separated 106 years from the original piece, was today reunited with the main part of the rock. The removal took place quietly, with no public demonstration, and the separated piece now lies under a canopy in its original position.

An Escaped Murderer Recaptured.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., Sept. 26. The Russian, Henry Messie, who so cruelly murdered the sailor Lawrence, recently, and succeeded in breaking jail last Tuesday, was caught yesterday by Jailer Chapman in the vicinity of Scow Bay, and again placed in confinement, after being heavily ironed.

New Russo-Chinese Negotiations.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 27. It is thought that another attempt will be made to settle the difficulties between Russia and China here, as Butzow, the Russian Envoy, and Secretary Sacho, of the Chinese legation, who were on their way to Peking, have been recalled.

Small-Pox in Stockton.

STOCKTON, Sept. 27. Rosa Hamm, aged twenty, was yesterday reported sick with small-pox. She resides at the corner of Church and Hunter streets. Sixteen cases of small-pox have been reported since the disease was first discovered.

Application Denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28. The Supreme Court has denied the application for a writ of mandamus to compel Election Commissioners to prepare tally rests for municipal officers at elections to be held this Fall.

POLITICAL.
REPUBLICAN NATIONAL PLATFORM.

Following is the text of the resolutions adopted by the Republican National Convention on Saturday, June 5, 1880:

Resolved, That the Republican rule has restored upon a solid basis payment in coin for all the national obligations, and has given us a currency absolutely good and legal, and equal in every part of our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the nation from the point where six per cent bonds sold at 80, to that where four per cent bonds are eagerly sought at a premium. Under its administration railways have increased from $1,000,000 in 1860 to more than $2,000,000 in 1879. Foreign trade has increased from $700,000,000 to $1,150,000,000 in the same time, and our exports, which were $200,000,000 less than our imports in 1860, were $364,000,000 more than our imports in 1879. Without resorting to loans it has, since the inauguration of the President, secured the payment of the national debt, and the ordinary expenses of government, besides the accruing interest on the public debt, and disbursed annually more than $20,000,000 for soldiers' pensions. It has paid $68,000,000 of the public debt, and by refunding the balance at lower rates, has reduced the annual charge from nearly $151,000,000 to less than $80,000,000. All the industries of the country have prospered, and in demand for goods have increased, and throughout the entire country there is evidence of a cooling prosperity greater than has ever enjoyed. Upon this record the Republican party asks for the continued confidence and support of the people, and this convention has secured their approval the following statements of the principles and purposes which will continue to guide and inspire its efforts.

REUNION OF PRINCIPLES.
First. We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to commend itself to the nation, and that the fruits of the costly victories which we have achieved through immediate difficulties should be preserved. That the peace and prosperity of the nation should be maintained, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted undiminished to future generations. That the order established by the Constitution should be maintained, and that the powers conferred upon the several States should be preserved. That the debt should be reduced, and that the national credit should be maintained. That the full payment of every dollar thereof. That the national industries should be further promoted, and that the commerce already so great should be steadily encouraged.

Second. The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land, and it is the duty of the national government to maintain it. Some powers are delegated to the nation, while others are reserved to the States; but the boundary between the powers delegated and those reserved is to be determined by national and not by State tribunals.

Third. The work of popular education is one left to the care of the several States, but it is the duty of the national government to aid that work to the extent of its constitutional ability. The intelligence of the nation is but the aggregate of the intelligence of the several States, and the destiny of the nation must be guided, not by the genius of any one State, but by the average genius of all.

NON-SECTARIAN SCHOOLS.
Fourth. The constitution itself forbids Congress to make any laws respecting an establishment of religion, but it is idle to hope that the nation can be protected against the influence of sectarianism while each State is exposed to its particular dominion. We therefore recommend that the constitution be so amended as to lay some prohibition upon the Legislature of each State, and to forbid the appropriation of public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

Fifth. We reiterate the belief avowed in 1876, that the duties levied for the purpose of revenue should be discriminated to favor American labor. That the further grant of the public domain should be made to any railroad or other corporation. That slavery having perished in the States, its twin barbarity, polygamy, must die in the Territories everywhere the protection accorded to a citizen of American birth must be secured to citizens of American birth. That the duty of Congress to develop and improve our water-courses and harbors, but we insist that further subsidies to private persons or corporations must cease. That the obligations to the men who preserved its integrity in the day of battle are undiminished by the lapse of fifteen years since their final victory. Their perpetual honor is and shall forever be the grateful privilege and the sacred duty of the American people.

THE CHINESE PLANK.
Sixth. Since the authority to regulate immigration and intercourse between the United States and foreign nations rests with the Congress of the United States and the treaty-making power, that the Republican party, regarding the unrestricted immigration of the Chinese a matter of grave concernment and under the exercise of that power would limit and restrict that immigration by the enactment of such just, humane and reasonable laws and treaties as will produce that result.

Seventh. That the purity and patriotism which characterized the earlier career of Rusherford B. Hayes in peace and war, and which guided the thought of his immediate predecessor to him for a Presidential candidate, have continued to inspire him in his career as chief executive, and that history will accord to his administration the honor which are due to so efficient, just and courageous fulfillment of the public service, and will honor his future position as the people and proposed partisan laws.

INTEGRITY OF THE DEMOCRACY.
Eighth. We charge upon the Democratic party the habitual sacrifice of justice and patriotism to a selfish and insatiable lust for office and patronage; that to maintain possession of the national and state governments and of the control of place and position, they have obstructed all the efforts to preserve the purity and conserve the freedom of suffrage; have devised fraudulent certificates and returns; have labored to prevent lawfully elected members of Congress, to secure at all hazards the vote of the majority of States in the House of Representatives; have endeavored to occupy by force and fraud places of trust given to others by the people of Maine, and resented by the Congress and the action of patriotic sons; have by methods vicious in principle and tyrannical in practice, attached partisan legislation to appropriation bills, have crushed the rights of individuals, and vindicated the principles and sought the favor of rebellion and have endeavored to obliterate the sacred memories of the war and to overcome its inestimable good results—freedom and equality.

We affirm it to be the duty and purpose of the Republican party to use all the legitimate means of this Union to secure the perfect harmony which may be practicable, and we submit to the practical, sensible people of the United States a platform which would be dangerous to the best interests of our country at this time to surrender the administration of the national government to a party which seeks to overturn the existing policy under which we are so prosperous, and thus bring destruction and confusion where there is now order, confidence and hope.

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

Resolved, That the platform of principles adopted by the National Republican Convention, at Chicago June last, deserves and receives the approval and hearty endorsement of all the Republicans of Nevada.

Resolved, That the horrid crimes of the Chinese against our country, impoverishing our mines, mining and laborers, degrading our race, and making both men and women lower in the scale of humanity. This evil must and shall be stopped, and to this end we pledge the entire strength of the Republican party.

In the language of our great leader, we regard the immigration of Asiatics to the United States as little less than a servile invasion, should the Commissioners now in negotiation with the Chinese Government fail to secure by the first of January such modification of the Burlingame Treaty as will practically put an end to the influx of Chinese to this country; we demand that the treaty be promptly annulled, and such laws enacted as will relieve us at once and forever of the Asiatic scourge now menacing the well-being of the Republic.

Resolved, That we most heartily invoke the general financial policy of the Republican party, which, in spite of every opposition on the part of the Democracy, has led to the resumption of specie payments, the raising of our national credit to a height never before known, and to the restoration of a national prosperity. That we also demand the complete restoration of silver coin to its former position by the side of gold; and for the purpose of attaining that end we hold it to be the duty of the General Government through the authorization of Congress, to coin into standard dollars or other legal tender currency, as the cost of coinage, for the benefit of the producer, the entire silver produced, whose currency, relieving the mining in a large measure, the least desiring the small pieces to and sale of silver bullion in foreign markets.

As mining for the precious metals is the staple industry of Nevada, we are indelibly bound to the bill reported by the Committee on Mines and Mining, and now before the House. Representatives in both Houses of Congress to continue their efforts for its defeat. Such a restriction would work disaster to the laborers of the prospector, and seriously retard the development of the mineral riches of the West, and we cordially endorse the action of our Representative, the Hon. R. M. Daggett, in this behalf.

Resolved, That the Republican party aims to be the right and duty of State and Territorial Legislatures to regulate and restrict the charges of railroads exclusively within their respective boundaries, and that it is no less the constitutional right than the positive duty of Congress to regulate the tariffs and restrict the charges of inter-State railroads.

Resolved, That while we congratulate the country on the successful resumption of specie payments, and the splendid financial condition of the Republic, we are in favor of restricting the issuance of National and State legal tender notes, so denominations of not less than five dollars, thus creating an increased demand for the precious metals which our mines are annually yielding.

Resolved, That when James A. Garfield and Chester A. Arthur, by their services to the country, by their devotion to principle, and by their untarnished reputations as men and as citizens, are deserving of the united and earnest support of all the loyal people of the United States. We rejoice in their nomination, and we pledge to them the electoral vote of Nevada at the ensuing election, by an overwhelming majority.
